Welcome

This year is my second opportunity to attend graduation in my role as the University of Waikato Chancellor. It is a privilege to share this very important day with you, our students, who have worked so hard to reach this culmination point.

Graduation is the perfect time to reflect, celebrate and dream.

Take the time today to think about where you've come from and the knowledge and experiences you've gained at university. Many of you are different people than when you began this journey. You are hopefully wiser, more mature and more confident and you should feel proud of what you've accomplished.

Today is also about celebration. You deserve your moment in the limelight. As you walk across the stage today and receive your diploma, enjoy every second of it.

And finally, today is a day to dream. Since I've taken up the role of Chancellor, I've enjoyed hearing the many stories of how the University of Waikato graduates are changing the world around them – whether that be in the smallest towns of New Zealand, or the largest cities in the world, our graduates do great things. And you will too.

Congratulations and best wishes as you make your way in the world.

Rt Hon Sir Anand Satyanand GNZM
QSO KStJ
Chancellor
University of Waikato

Graduation is a wonderful part of the tradition of universities. Our ceremony today combines elements that reflect 800 years of tradition since the first universities were established, as well as elements that reflect the University of Waikato's unique culture.

Today is about recognising the hard work and scholarly achievements each of our graduates have accomplished. Every assignment, every exam, every lab experiment and late-night study session has brought you to today's important commemoration. And as Vice-Chancellor, it is an honour and pleasure to share it with you.

I also want to take the time to acknowledge our students' families and friends who are here supporting them today. We realise there is a support network who journeys alongside our students through their studies. You have made sacrifices and played a part in making our graduates' education dreams come true.

To our graduates, I hope your time today happily concludes an unforgettable, fulfilling experience and that you take away not only new-found knowledge, but great friends and memories of your time at the University of Waikato.

After today, you don the new title of 'University of Waikato Alumni.' You are now part of a special group of people and we look forward to staying connected with you through the years as your career takes off.

Professor Neil Quigley
Vice-Chancellor
University of Waikato

Congratulations to all
University of Waikato Graduates

Stay connected after you graduate

Congratulations on your graduation - you are now a member of the University of Waikato's alumni community, a special group of more than 80,000 people based in cities all around the world.

Waikato alumni are doing amazing things and they are connected by a common thread – the time they spent at the University of Waikato.

While you may have finished your studies, as alumni you can expect to hear from us regularly as you move through your lives after graduation. We will keep in touch with updates from the University and stories of inspiration and success from your fellow alumni. We will also reach out if we're hosting a catch up in your area – alumni events are a great way to reconnect with your university, expand your networks and meet new people.

It's important we have your up-to-date contact details so we can get in touch with news, events and information that might be of benefit to you. Visit alumni.waikato.ac.nz to update your details, and join us on LinkedIn and Facebook to stay in touch online.

Once again, congratulations on your graduation. We look forward to staying in touch with you in the years to come.

Ceremonial Traditions

Elements of university graduation ceremonies have evolved from the 12th century when the first universities emerged in Europe.

The organisation of medieval universities was modelled on the established institutions of the day – the church, the monastery and the guild.

Latin was the language used by medieval scholars, and it is from Latin that the words 'university' and 'degree' are derived. The Latin term universitas means a guild or union, and universities started as a scholastic guild – a self-constituted community of teachers and scholars.

The word graduate comes from the Latin word gradus, which means step. Admission to study a bachelors degree was the first step taken towards completing a university education. The second step was to become a 'master'. Masters were Master of Arts graduates whose degrees licensed them to teach. The Chancellor, an officer of the cathedral, originally granted teaching licences.

Ceremonial Robes and Academic Dress

In the Middle Ages the corporate existence of universities was recognised and sanctioned by civil or ecclesiastical authority. The regalia worn by graduates and university staff today reflect this mix of medieval governance. Robes worn by the Chancellor resemble those worn by the Lord Chancellor of England. Graduates and academic staff wear gowns similar to the dress of medieval clergy. Hoods are also fashioned on an everyday medieval garment, although the coloured lining was a later addition to indicate the wearer's university and degree.

University of Waikato Academic Dress

Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor

Black gown with red velvet facings and gold piping; three red velvet chevrons with gold piping on the sleeves; black Tudor bonnet with gold cord and tassel.

Pro-Chancellor

Black gown with lining of gold satin; gold button and cord just above the sleeves which are lined with black satin; black Tudor bonnet with gold cord and tassel.

HonD

Red gown with black facings; black Tudor bonnet with gold cord and tassel.

DLit, DSc

Crimson gown; crimson hood with crimson lining; black Tudor bonnet with gold cord and tassel.

PhD, EdD and SJD

Maroon gown; crimson hood with crimson lining; black Tudor bonnet.

MPhil

Black gown; crimson hood with crimson lining; black mortarboard.

Note: Those who graduated with a DPhil prior to 1992 are entitled to wear a black mortarboard or a black Tudor bonnet.

Masters

Black gown; gold hood with gold lining; black mortarboard.

Bachelors with Honours

Black gown; black hood with gold lining and gold border 5cm in width; black mortarboard.

First Bachelors

Black gown; black hood with gold lining; black mortarboard.

Pou Whenua

The ceremonial carved Māori mace being used in today's graduation ceremony represents the strong links between the University and Māori.

In 1965, just a year after the University of Waikato was established, Kingitanga head Koroki invited founding University of Waikato Chancellor and Hamilton Mayor Denis Rogers, along with 20 University of Waikato graduates, to Tūrangawaewae Marae in Ngaruawahia.

There he presented the fledgling institution with the carved taonga to be used as ceremonial mace. The piece was carved by master carver Piri Poutapu, who established a carving school at Tūrangawaewae in 1932. When not being used, the taonga sits in pride of place at the head of the University Council chamber.

God Defend New Zealand

E Ihowā Atua,
O ngā Iwi mātou rā
Āta whakarongona;
Me aroha noa
Kia hua ko te pai;
Kia tau tō atawhai;
Manaakitia mai
Aotearoa

God of Nations at Thy feet
In the bonds of love we meet
Hear our voices we entreat
God defend our free land
Guard Pacific's Triple Star
From the shafts of strife and war
Make her praises heard afar
God defend New Zealand

The University of Waikato

THE UNIVERSITY OF WAIKATO
Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato

The University of Waikato's motto is Ko Te Tangata – For the people. It's an appropriate maxim for a university that was established when a group of people in the Waikato determined that the region should have its own university, and it reinforces our belief that people are central to the University.

In its first year, the university had 181 enrolments. Today, there are about 12,500 students, and about 2,000 of them come from overseas.

The University is committed to academic excellence, and provides academically challenging programmes that reflect the interests of students and the needs of the employers and communities with which we are engaged.

The University has had a presence in the Bay of Plenty for 20 years, and opened the new Tauranga campus earlier this year to enhance the range of qualifications and study options available to students in the Bay of Plenty.

The construction process is also beginning on The Pā project, an innovative and versatile new facility on the Hamilton campus that will transform the on-campus experience for students, staff, visitors and the broader community.

CAMPUS LOCATIONS

The Hamilton campus covers 65 hectares and is arguably the most attractive university campus in New Zealand, with gardens and grounds that attract a range of sports teams for practice and tournaments, and provide a venue for many community activities.

The new University of Waikato Tauranga CBD campus opened in 2019 and enables more students to study in the Bay, and extends the range of qualifications and study options in the region. The state-of-the-art building has been designed with students in mind, with stunning artworks that give the campus an identity and breathe life into the new building. In October, the new Science and Engineering laboratories were opened, allowing the university to increase its teaching and research capabilities in those areas in the Bay of Plenty.

EXPANDING HORIZONS

The University strives to ensure its teaching and research is relevant. We have also worked hard to ensure university study becomes accessible to a wider range of students.

To that end, we have extended Te Ara ki Angitū: Pathways to Excellence programme which brings students from outlying towns in the region to campus, offering fees scholarships and heavily subsidised daily transport to and from campus. The programme started in 2016 with 40 first-year students. Similar transport options are now available in the Bay of Plenty, with transport now available between outlying towns and the university's Tauranga campus.

Our focus on our local communities is balanced by our commitment to biculturalism, our modern multicultural society, and the sustainability of our environment, economy and society. Our students are challenged and inspired to fulfil their potential and to make their mark on the national and international stage.
