

The University of Waikato Research Masters Scholarship (formerly the University of Waikato Masters Research Scholarship) was established in 1997 as part of the University's commitment to graduate research. The Scholarship supports students undertaking a master's thesis at the University of Waikato. The number of scholarships offered each year is based primarily on the total pool of funding available. There are two rounds each year closing on 31 October and 30 April. Applicants who have already started their thesis may apply.

1. Purpose

- 1.1. The Scholarship provides financial support for excellent students undertaking a master's thesis in any discipline at the University of Waikato.

2. Eligibility and Selection Criteria

2.1. To be eligible, applicants must:

- 2.1.1. be enrolled in, or intending to enrol full-time in their first master's degree including a 593 (90-point thesis) or 594 (120-point thesis)¹;
- 2.1.2. have had contact with a potential University of Waikato master's thesis supervisor (the potential supervisor may be asked to confirm their involvement with the applicant's research); and
- 2.1.3. have not applied for this Scholarship before (i.e., applicants may only apply once).

- 2.2. The Scholarship is open to NZ Citizens, NZ Permanent residents, NZ Resident Class Visa holders or Australian Citizens/Permanent Residents domiciled in NZ, and international students. International students must have completed at least 120-points of study at a New Zealand university (by the closing date of the round in which they are applying). Applications of international students who are due to complete 120 points of study at the end of the relevant trimester at the time of application will be sent to panel for consideration.

- 2.3. Applicants who have already begun their thesis may apply. However, if they are successful, the stipend portion of the Scholarship will be adjusted based on the number of months of thesis enrolment remaining after the date of the offer.

- 2.4. Applicants enrolled, or intending to enrol, part-time may apply (but note clause 3.3 for further information on value).

- 2.5. Applicants must not be eligible for a staff fees-concession during the tenure of the Scholarship.

2.6. Selection is based on:

- 2.6.1. Academic merit, with an expected minimum grade average of 'A-' for their most recent 240-points of study. Where applicable, the Selection Panel may pay particular attention to results from 400- and/or 500-level papers.

¹ Zero-point enrolments do not qualify. Before applying for this Scholarship, please seek programme advice from your Division/Faculty/School.

- 2.6.2. Other factors possibly taken into consideration are the experience of the applicant (e.g., references, prior research and work experience, publications), knowledge of Mātauranga Māori and/or Pacific knowledges, alignment with the research priorities of the Divisions/Faculties/Schools and/or Research Institutes, financial hardship, and the strategic objectives of the University.
- 2.7. Preference will be given to applicants who have not yet commenced their master's thesis enrolment and who do not have any other scholarship funding.
- 2.8. Ongoing eligibility and scholarship maintenance is contingent on:
- 2.8.1. The recipient enrolling in a thesis of 90-points or more² within six months of the closing date of the round in which they applied. To be clear:
- a. Those who apply in the 31 October round must commence their thesis by 30 April in the year following application.

Any unused balance can be carried over to the next year if the student's Masters enrolment spans multiple years.
 - 3.2.2. The remaining funds (i.e., $6,500 or $9,500) paid directly into the recipient's bank account in monthly instalments over the period of the recipient's enrolment in a 593 or 594 thesis paper. The value of each instalment will be based on the number of points the student is enrolled in towards their thesis paper.
 - 3.2.3. The final instalment is withheld and paid only after submission of the master's thesis. The final instalment will lapse if the thesis is not submitted by the due date of the thesis paper enrolment. However, the final payment date may be extended for up to three months after the original thesis due date; extensions of the final instalment date will be applied automatically and will only be applied
